1 John 4:7-9,10

John's words speak to us with unrelenting force: God gives love, produces love, acts in love, and is love. May this loving God grant us grace to see love in the full context of Biblical revelation so that we will be able to distinguish it from our fallen misinterpretations. May we know what it affirms and denies, what it provides and withholds, what it champions and abases, what it receives and rejects . . . what it is and is not.

1 John 4:10-13 (11-12)

10 In this is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

12 No one has seen God at any time; if we love one another, God abides in us, and His love is perfected in us.

13 By this we know that we abide in Him and He in us, because He has given us of His Spirit.

God's love is so great that it does not terminate at its object but rather calls the believer to the supreme privilege of being like the One who has loved Him by extending that love to others.
